From the CO-EDITOR

Being a teacher as well as the co-editor of this wonderful initiative of the departmental magazine "Horizon & Beyond", I would like to express my immense pleasure and pride to be associated with such a venture. Seeing some of the brightest minds working together day and night and giving birth to some wonderful creative ideas has been a really delightful experience. I wish all our students the very best for their future.

As their teacher or guide I am happy to contribute a little bit for the development of their young minds. I have been part of this teaching-learning process for the last 12 years and I am really privileged to have to the opportunity to guide some of the brightest minds and through that journey I have learned a lot, made some wonderful relationships with all my students. So here we are presenting you the 5th edition of departmental magazine "Horizon & Beyond" with the hope that with all your support and encouragement this would be a perfect bridge of relationship among all the students, faculties, alumni and the family gets bigger every year!! Wishing all the best to all my students and my colleagues to make this magazine a huge success and make it memorable for all.
